

IN OGDEN'S SOCIETY CIRCLES

Brilliant Wedding Reception for Popular Couple

Home Portraits by Eugene Grey Freemonde.

The wedding of one of Ogden's most attractive young ladies and a prominent young attorney of this city occurred last Tuesday, when Miss Lella Rich, charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ezra Clark Rich, and Clarence E. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wright, were married in the Salt Lake temple. Apostle David O. McKay of this city performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were accompanied to Salt Lake by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rich and Mr. and Mrs. Wright.

On Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents a beautiful wedding reception was tendered them, over 200 guests being received between the hours of 8:30 and 11 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Rich were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Volker, Dr. and Mrs. Edward I. Rich, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Stauffer and Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Budge of Salt Lake. A number of friends of the bride assisted in entertaining. They were the Misses Oertel and Cleone Rich, Miss Alberta Wright, Miss Lillian Wright, Miss Florence Wright, Miss Rae Wright, Miss Vivian Carroll, Miss Genevieve Allison, Miss Ruth Wattis, Miss Edna Wattis and Miss Katherine Hoag.

The bridal party was stationed in the parlor beneath a lovely canopy formed of lavender and white chrysanthemums, china asters and mums and satin bows entwined with smilax and chiffon. In the bridal party were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright, the Misses Gladys and Helen Rich, bridesmaids; Orson Douglas, best man, and the parents of the bride and groom. The bride, an unusually attractive young lady, was gowned in white net over satin, and wore a lovely bride's veil. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and orchids tied with satin ribbon. Her bridesmaids were prettily gowned in lavender net over satin and wore well head-dresses. They carried bouquets of roses. Mrs. Rich and Mrs. Wright wore purple gowns.

Throughout the home the decorative scheme was carried out in lavender and white with a profusion of asters and chrysanthemums combined with ferns and smilax. In the dining room, library and sun parlor, vases of the flowers tied with maline bows, graced each table, where delicious refreshments were served during the reception hours.

At the rear of the home a platform was erected and many of the young people enjoyed dancing for which the well-known and popular stringed orchestra, lead by Miss Lillian Thatcher, furnished a program of the latest dance numbers. The platform was surrounded by pine trees and autumn leaves and bright Japanese lanterns were suspended from the ceiling. Refreshments were served at a bower arranged at one end of the pavilion. In a specially arranged room, the gifts tendered the bride and groom were on display, and during the evening many expressions of esteem in the form of lovely wedding gifts were added to the display. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home in the Browning apartments on Washington avenue and Twenty-seventh street, following a honeymoon trip throughout the northwest, including Portland, Seattle, and other coast cities.

SILVER TEA.

One of the most pleasant afternoons of the past week was the "Silver Tea" at the home of Mrs. B. F. Thomas on Jefferson avenue, when Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Albert Hadley entertained the members of Abraham Lincoln circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., and members of Dixie-Logan post, G. A. R.

The home was prettily decorated with flags and flowers, and a goodly number were present. During the afternoon readings were given by Mrs. Frank A. Dodge and Mrs. Gertrude Carr, which were greatly enjoyed by all.

After the serving of dainty refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. George H. Thiel, president of the circle, presented in behalf of the circle a beautiful bouquet to Mrs. C. H. Gherding, who is departing for California to make her future home.

The next social will be held on October 17, with Miss Minnie and Miss Crossman as hostesses.

FOR BRIDE OF WEEK.

One of the pretty events, in honor of Miss Frances King, bride of the past week, was the "showers" at the home of Mrs. George Thiel, on Grant avenue, when Mrs. Thiel and Miss Jennie Berlinger entertained the "girls" and "young matrons" of Queen Esther chapter No. 4, O. E. S. The home was prettily decorated with fall flowers, and the interesting game of Progressive Five Hundred was played. Miss Lillian Stanley being given the first prize and Miss Dorothy Blackman the booby prize. A very interesting program was rendered during the evening. Miss Vicks, Miss Haidill and Miss King playing a number of piano solos. Mrs. Chester Cramel, the well-known whistling soloist, accompanied by her sister, Miss Rowse, whistled a number of solos. Two "musical readings" by Mrs. Frank A. Dodge, accompanied by Mrs. Thiel—"When We Haven't Said Our Prayers" and "Just Smiling"—were well received. The vocal solos, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" and "I Love You Truly," were sung in pleasing voice. At the close of the program Miss King was the recipient of a beautiful cut glass dish, the gift of the "girls," after which a most delicious dinner was served by the hostess. The evening will long be remembered by all present as it was one of enjoyment throughout.

Miss Mary Fischer, Talented Violinist.

Is Ogden to send out into the musical world a few years hence, a young musician destined to become a second "Maud Powell"? An affirmative reply can well be given after having seen and heard the artistic performance given by Miss Mary Fischer last night at the Alhambra theater.

Unaffected by the popularity her winsome personality or the fulsome praise that has followed her violin playing in many smaller local halls, the young Ogden girl made her professional debut in the city's largest auditorium and captivated two capacity audiences. Her performance was given jointly with a phonograph, the first number being the playing in unison with a reproduction of "Ave Maria" (Schubert-Wilhelm), as played by Carl Flesch, a noted European violinist, concertizing in the eastern states. The second was an unusually difficult performance, that of playing the obligato for a soprano solo and chorus in a reproduction of "I Hear You Calling Me." Her concluding number was "Cavatina" (J. Raff), in unison with Albert Spalding, America's foremost violinist.

In time and truthfulness of note, the Ogden girl's playing of the solos was in virtually perfect accord with the reproduction of their rendition by the mature violinists, and in a number of passages in the compositions the tones she drew from her instrument blended in rich harmony with theirs. The three numbers were given at the conclusion of each of the motion picture programs, and each rendition was greeted with hearty applause.

Miss Fischer is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fischer, of 2359 Van Buren avenue. She has just passed her sixteenth year and is a junior student of the Ogden high school, at which institution she is one of the most popular "co-eds."

The young lady began her study of the violin five years ago under Professor Sardon of Salt Lake City, and she is now a pupil of Arthur Pederson Freber. In the past one and one-half years, the period covering her public appearances, the musical advancement of the Ogden girl has been so pronounced that it is probable that she will be permitted by her parents to pursue the study of the violin as a profession, this being the advice given by her instructor.

Success for her in the art seems assured as she has demonstrated possession of an artistic temperament, a desire to achieve big things and a willingness to work to that end, the three elements of genius. To these she is able to add a charming stage presence and an entire lack of affectation—valuable requisites in the attainment of success on the concert platform.
